BBC Radio 4 Gardeners' Question Time

Over 150 people came along to hear Bunny Guinness and the panel tackle gardening questions with their usual mix of wit and wisdom. Everyone had a wonderful time, and you can catch the 2 episodes that were recorded on BBC

Welcome back to our Autumn-Winter term of talks

It was great to kick off our Autumn programme back in the church hall – and doesn't it look fantastic now! The chatter and smiles showed that everyone was delighted to be back together and start the new season of talks.

Meadow Makers Ed Cook – the importance of native planting. It was wonderful to see around 40 members and friends at our September meeting. Through a fun quiz and engaging talk, Ed gave us a real insight into the importance of gardening for wildlife and the impact we all have on the planet. He brought along a wonderful selection of native plants, which proved very popular with our audience! Ed reminded us how vital it is to grow plants that support pollinators and wildlife – not just the ones that look pretty or smell nice.

Jobs for Autumn: Divide herbaceous perennials – plant one up for the plant sale. Collect your own seeds from perennials and hardy annuals- swap with members'.

Thank you to all those who brought along stems from your gardens – a wonderful array of colour.

Christmas lunch at Brannagans' Saturday 6th December 2025 12pm – menus to follow.

We look forward to welcoming you at 7.30pm on Friday 31st October.
Don Witton – Late Herbaceous Perennials – why not bring a friend?
